

For years I have told all phone solicitors "sorry, we do not accept telephone solicitations, but we will read and evaluate mailed requests". And we do. With this attitude it is best for them to give up making phone calls. It has been wonderful since the large amount of phone calls, before we were out of bed or during dinner, has almost stopped. We urge you to allow New Jersey's law to remain. Please urge all consumers to "just say no" and please convince all telemarketers to use other approaches. Thanks.
